IN SOCIAL CIRCLES

Miss Jennie Anderson and Mr. Rutledge of Memphis marry here. A marriage, the announcement of which will be of much interest to the many friends of the bride in Paducah, was that of Miss Jennie V. Anderson, of Memphis, and Mr. C. Buford Rutledge, also of Memphis, which was quietly solemnized at high noon today at the Fountain Avenue Methodist church, of this city. The ceremony was pronounced by the Rev. George W. Banks, pastor of that church, and a former pastor of that church. The only witnesses were Mr. and Mrs. Paul E. Stutz, of this city, intimate friends of the bride.

The couple arrived at noon from Memphis and went direct to the church, where the ceremony was impressively pronounced. The bride was becomingly gowned in a stylish tailored suit of wisteria cloth with hat and gloves of harmonizing shades.

The bride is an attractive young woman of lovable character, with a host of friends in Paducah, her girlhood home. She is a daughter of Mr. J. H. Anderson, formerly a popular conductor on the Illinois Central, running out of Paducah. Several years ago the family moved to Memphis, but Miss Anderson has frequently visited her friend, Mrs. Stutz, here. It was her desire to be quietly married in Paducah, at the church of which she was a devoted member and by her former pastor in Memphis, the Rev. G. W. Banks. Mr. Rutledge is also known here. He travels for an Electrical Supply company, with headquarters in Memphis, and makes Paducah in his trips. He is a popular young man.

Mr. and Mrs. Rutledge will be the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Stutz, 529 Jefferson street, until Friday, when they will return to Memphis.

A Double Wedding.

A double wedding of much interest in Odd Fellow circles took place last night at 8 o'clock when Miss Myrtle Launa Adams and Mr. William R. Kinsey and Miss Nora Jettie Bowland and Mr. Clarence Goodman were married. The ceremony took place in the lodge room in the Three Links building, and was witnessed by a large audience of friends of the couples. Both of the brides are members of the Ingleside lodge of Rebekahs, while the grooms are officers in the Mangum lodge of Odd Fellows.

The lodge room was prettily decorated in a color scheme of green and white. The rostrum was a bank of palms and ferns and formed a pretty background for the ceremony. Above the couples was suspended a large wedding bell formed of fern leaves and white carnations. A path-way down to the rostrum was marked off with white ribbons. The attendants entered from the right and left entrances to the hall, meeting at the aisle and marching down near the rostrum. There were eighteen attendants, members of the Rebekahs. They were dressed in white and formed a column on each side of the aisle. They were: Misses Ruby Mayer, Nellie Hotchkiss, Sarah McPheeters, Clara Lee, Lillian Ketter, and Mesdames E. T. McKinney, O. T. Davis, Oscar Denker, Charles Denker, Mary Lee, Florence Gary, Dan Orr, Samuel Whitmer, George Watts, Nellie Iverlett, Jettie Elliott, W. H. Forre and Mamie Jettie.

Next entered the bridesmaids and groomsmen. Miss Bessie Lou Watts and Mr. Will Rouse entered from the left, while Miss Katie Block and Mr. Allison Watts entered from the right and passed to the side of the altar. Proceeding the couples were little Misses Gertrude and Grace Skelton, who were the flower girls. Miss Adams and Mr. Kinsey entered from the left and Mr. Bowland and Mr. Goodman entered from the right. At the side they met and marched to the altar, where they were met by the Rev. M. E. Dodd, pastor of the First Baptist church, who pronounced the ceremony inviolably.

Miss Etta Beckenbach presided at the piano and as a processional played the Mendelssohn wedding march, while during the ceremony she softly played "Call Me Thine Own." The brides wore white with veils caught with lilacs-of-the-valley, and they carried a shower of bride's roses. Mrs. Watts wore a pink gown made in princess style and trimmed with cream lace, and carried pink carnations. Miss Block wore a blue dress trimmed with lace, and carried tinted carnations. The little flower girls wore pale blue tarleton.

After the ceremony the Odd Fellows and Rebekah lodges entertained with a dance and reception in the hall on the first floor. Later the bridal party was present at a luncheon at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Crowell, 418 North Fourth street. Early this morning the couples left for New Orleans and other southern cities on a bridal trip. They will be at home in Paducah after February 1.

Mrs. Kinsey came to Paducah two years ago from Jonesboro, Ark., and since residing in the city has made many friends. Mrs. Goodman is the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Bowland and a popular young woman. Mr. Kinsey is the only son of Mrs. Allen Kinsey, of South Eleventh street. He is the noble grand of the Mangum lodge. Mr. Goodman was reared in Paducah, and is well known in the city. Both young men are employees of the Illinois Central railroad shops.

unusual interest for all the members. This will convene at 2:30 o'clock. Following this and before the open meeting there will be a social tea under the auspices of the Hospitality committee. In the dining-room upstairs, The Philanthropic department will present at the open meeting Miss Agnes Mahony, of New York, in an special talk on her life as a missionary in Africa, and on slum work in the large cities. The afternoon is free to all club members. The usual nominal admission will be charged non-members.

Entre Nous Bridge.

Miss Mary Owen was the hostess Tuesday afternoon of the Entre Nous club. Bridge was played at four tables.

The highest score was made by Miss Frances Terrell, who was presented with Meredith Nicholson's "The Lords of High Deceit." The next highest score was made by Miss Mary Scott, who received a beautiful hand decorated plate. The booty went to Miss Loving. The house was prettily decorated in cut flowers. A delicious salad course luncheon was served at 5 o'clock.

The guest list included only club members and substitutes: Misses Frances Terrell, Mary Scott, Robbie Loving, Sarah Sanders, Philippa Hughes, Marjorie Bagby, Katherine Quigley, Eloise Bradshaw, Blanche Hills, and Mesdames Andrew Campbell, David Koger, John Brooks, Calhoun Rieke, Paul Province and W. E. Coleman.

Pretty Club Party for Visitors.

Mrs. Percy Paxton entertained the Tuesday afternoon Euchre club in compliment to several attractive visitors in the city yesterday afternoon at her home, 1622 Jefferson street.

It was an informal but charmingly appointed card party with five tables of guests. Cut flowers and potted plants were effectively used throughout the pretty rooms. A delightful 2-course luncheon followed the game.

The tallies were especially clever features. They were represented by cards from decks of two sizes, a large and a miniature deck, tied together with red ribbon. The game score was kept on the large card, and the lone hand score on the small. The three prizes were bags. The club prize, a dainty blue vanity bag, was captured by Miss Hendrick. The visitor's prize, a pretty coin bag, was won by Miss Faith Langstaff and presented to her guest, Miss Evans, of Ohio. The lone hand prize, a delightfully complete darning bag with the white ivory darning, needles and cotton all at hand, went to Miss Alice Cabell.

The out-of-town guests were: Mrs. A. J. Goodson, of Dixon; Miss Eunice Evans, of Ohio; Miss Polly Sullivan, of Elkhart. Other guests were: Misses Hazel McCandless, Fred Paxton, Mabel McNichols, Elizabeth Boswell, Alma Kopf, Elizabeth Sebree, Gertrude Scott, Nell Shaw, Lillie Mae McGlathery, Alice Cabell, Nell Hendrick, Corinne Wingstead, Willie Hatfield, Myrtle Decker, Willie Willis, Mrs. J. B. Bartee, Mrs. Victor Voris, Mrs. John McCandless, Mrs. Harry Williamson, Mrs. Peter Puryear, Mrs. John Williamson, Mrs. J. J. Berry, Mrs. Charles de Werthen.

Armstrong-Reed.

The marriage of Miss Alma Belle Armstrong to Mr. Wallace Reed, of Memphis, Tenn., took place this afternoon at 4 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Armstrong, 1130 Trimble street. The Rev. George W. Banks, of the Fountain Avenue Methodist church, pronounced the ceremony.

The attendants were Miss Bessie Womble and Mr. Joe Gourieux. Miss Ella Karnes played the Mendelssohn wedding march. A color motif of white and green was prettily carried out in the decorations of the house.

The bride wore a pretty gown of white albatross cloth and carried a shower bouquet of bride roses. Her maid of honor was gowned in white, and carried white carnations. An informal reception followed the ceremony and the couple will leave at 6:10 o'clock for New Orleans and San Antonio. They will be at home in Memphis after January 25. The bride's going-away costume will be a gray tailored coat suit with hat, gloves and shoes to match.

Among the out-of-town guests for the wedding were: Mr. and Mrs. Reed and Miss Myrtle Reed, of Lexington, the father, mother and sister of the bridegroom.

Senior Crescendo Club.

The benefit Euchre club will meet with Miss Newell in her studio this afternoon at 4 o'clock to study the interpretation of music.

U. D. C. Benefit Euchre to Be at Palmer.
